

The future of the Sonoma Developmental Center is in our hands...

Join us to Transform SDC

The Sonoma Developmental Center (SDC) sits in the heart of Glen Ellen. This 950-acre property has served as a residential care facility for people with developmental disabilities for more than 120 years and is the largest employer in the Sonoma Valley. It is also an ecological treasure with 750 acres of undeveloped wild lands providing a critical linkage for wildlife passage for the entire North Bay. With the State pushing to close SDC and other developmental centers, we invite you to learn more about this unique community resource and help us chart a course away from closure — and towards a transformed and revitalized Center.

JOIN US FOR THE FIRST COMMUNITY WORKSHOP: Project Introduction and Community Visioning Launch

Saturday, May 2, from 9AM to 1PM
Vintage House, 264 First Street East, Sonoma

Workshop schedule and purpose: The May 2 workshop is the first of four workshops planned for 2015–2016 to generate and discuss ideas for transforming SDC into a resource benefitting both SDC residents and the community.

For more information: Visit sonomalandtrust.org/sdc, susangorin.com or call (707) 526-6930, ext. 123.

The Transform SDC Project is a project of Sonoma Land Trust and the Sonoma Developmental Center Coalition, with generous funding and support from the Gordon and Betty Moore Foundation, Impact100 Sonoma, Sonoma County and private donors.
